

strangers walked all over the hardwood floor and carpet with their shoes on, in and out for five hours.

What bothers me is that I told all the officers that even if they find something illegal in my motorhome that they could not use it against me in a court of law unless it was obtained legally with a proper search warrant, which they did not have when they entered my motorhome to search it feveresly nonstop for hours with four different K9 dogs.